

ABSTRACT

5 A deck system employing a plurality of substantially hidden fasteners to couple the floor boards of the deck to the joists. Each hidden fastener is rigidly coupled to a respective joist and positioned between a pair of adjacent floor boards. Each fastener forms a mating relationship with specially configured sides of the boards to thereby rigidly couple the boards to the joists.